"These interviews alone make the book worth buying - where else can you have the questions that you would probably have asked yourself answered by some of the very pioneers of the coaching profession?"

– David Lyons,
Executive Coach

"There is a real breadth and depth of experience in this book – coaches from many different backgrounds, training programs and niches. I think any coach reading these interviews would find a number of mentors and paths to follow. "

– Kathy Mallary,
The Signature System Coach

"Each coach has come to success by following a highly individual path. Most have experienced downturns, disappointments and career twists, yet all have accepted these changes as puzzles to be worked through, not as judgments and each picked him or her self up, learned from the experience, and moved on."

– Dr. Susan Meyer, President,
International Association of Coaches
